This Dodge Challenger boasts a Regular Unleaded V-6 3.6 L/220 engine powering this Automatic transmission. The Experts Verdict...As reported by KBB.com: Who doesn't love the classic looks of the Challenger? Beyond that, if you crave the power and sound of a Hemi V8, or simply hate tires so much that only 707 horsepower will let you destroy them quickly enough, then there's a 2015 Dodge Challenger for you. and As reported by The Manufacturer Summary: 1971 looks even better the second time around thanks to the new 2015 Dodge Challenger. The iconic heritage-inspired split grille surround and aggressive brow designs are back with attitude and new projector headlamps with quad LED halo surrounds with available projector fog lamps. The functional, performance-tuned exterior retains the Challenger design heritage with not-so-subtle air-gulping hood inlet, functional front splitter, rear spoiler and dual chrome exhaust outlets. The interior has been completely redesigned around the driver. The Tic-Toc-Tach retro-style gauges flank the new class-exclusive 7-inch reconfigurable digital cluster display. It provides a multitude of vehicle information displays, including 0-60 time, reaction time, and g-force meter. Adjust the performance of the engine, transmission, steering response and traction control with configurable drive modes on performance pages, view 3-D navigation guidance and take advantage of Pandora, Yelp, your own WiFi Hotspot, as well as other great apps from the new class-exclusive available 8.4-inch Uconnect Touchscreen. There are three paths to relentless power: a 305hp 3.6L Pentastar V6 engine, the available 375hp 5.7L HEMI V8 engine or the new available 6.4L HEMI V8 engine with an estimated 485hp. A new electronic sport shifter is paired to the new class-exclusive TorqueFlite eight-speed automatic transmission+ with AutoStick. Or choose the six-speed manual transmission, standard with the 5.7L HEMI V8 engine, and shift the gears yourself. SRT versions of the Challenger are available as well in the form of the Challenger SRT 392 as well as the Challenger SRT Hellcat which is the fastest and most powerful muscle car ever produced with a 707hp Supercharged 6.2L V8. Visit Us Today A short visit to PRO X MOTORS , can get you a reliable Challenger today!
